

English Language Proficiency Exempt Countries

The below countries are considered to have English language curriculum as standard. Students from countries not on this list will need to provide documentation that their curriculum was taught in English if they feel they should be exempt. Otherwise, students must submit an English Language Proficiency Test.

Anguilla (BWI)	Mariana Islands
Antigua & Barbuda	Mauritius
Australia	Midway
Bahamas	Montserrat (BWI)
Barbados	Namibia
Belize	New Zealand
Bermuda	Nigeria
Botswana	Northern Ireland
British Virgin Island (BWI)	Palau
Canada (excluding Quebec)	Puerto Rico
Cayman Islands (BWI)	Scotland
Channel Islands	Sierra Leone
Dominica	South Africa
England/Wales	St. Christopher (St. Kitts) & Nevis
Falkland Islands	St. Lucia
Gambia	St. Vincent & The Grenadines
Ghana	Swaziland
Gibraltar	Tanzania
Grenada	Trinidad & Tobago
Guam	Turks & Caicos Islands (BWI)
Guyana	Uganda
Ireland	United Kingdom (and A/O levels)
Jamaica	USVI (St. Croix/ St. Thomas/ St. John)
Kenya	Wake Island
Lesotho	Zambia
Liberia	Zimbabwe
Malawi	